In conjunction with
The Office of Continuing Medical Education
University of Oklahoma College of Medicine
The Seventh G. Rainey Williams Surgical Symposium again honors Dr. Williams as he completes 37 years in the Department of Surgery at the University of Oklahoma Health Sciences Center. This Symposium is particularly significant as Dr. Williams has stated that this will be his last Symposium as Chairman of the Department of Surgery. A number of internationally recognized speakers will be present to make this Symposium one of the best ever. The Symposium will focus on current concepts in surgical oncology and gastrointestinal surgery. The vascular surgery segment will highlight new ideas in the treatment of lymphedema and carotid disease, as well as other new management techniques. A special section on pediatric surgical problems of interest to the general surgeon will be held on Friday afternoon. We will again hold a parallel session on Friday afternoon for cardiothoracic surgeons. Topics to be covered include esophageal cancer, lung cancer, coronary artery disease and innovations in valve replacement.

The Symposium provides an excellent forum for the scientific exchange of ideas, as well as an opportunity for surgeons with ties to the University of Oklahoma to return to the campus. As stated, the guest faculty are internationally recognized surgeons.

The Symposium headquarters will be The Waterford Hotel. Transportation will be provided to and from the hotel when the scientific sessions are scheduled at the Health Sciences Center.

The annual meeting of the Oklahoma Chapter of the American College of Surgeons and the biennial meeting of the University of Oklahoma Surgical Society will be held in conjunction with the Symposium. The Oklahoma Chapter of the American College of Surgeons will have a luncheon and business meeting at noon on Friday at The Waterford. The University of Oklahoma Surgical Society will host a cocktail reception on Wednesday evening and will have a breakfast and business meeting on Saturday morning at The Waterford.

On Saturday afternoon, the University of Oklahoma and North Texas State University will play football in Norman. If you desire tickets, please indicate this on your registration and we will make every effort to see that they are available.

General Information

COURSE DESCRIPTION
This symposium will focus on frequently encountered problems in surgical practice and will be clinically oriented for appeal to the practicing surgeon and others involved in the pre- and postoperative care of patients. One session will be directed toward the cardiothoracic surgeon. The Symposium Guest Faculty are internationally recognized authorities and there will be opportunities for audience participation with them during the discussion sessions.

OBJECTIVES
On completion of this Symposium, participants should:
1) have a thorough understanding of the current status of the pathophysiology, diagnosis and therapy of diverse pancreatic diseases including pancreatic adenocarcinoma, acute pancreatitis and chronic pancreatitis.
2) have developed a thorough understanding of the state of the art in the diagnosis and management of breast, esophageal, hepatic and lung carcinoma.
3) have acquired knowledge on the current results of the laparoscopic treatment of gallbladder disease and an understanding of techniques to avoid the most common complications.
4) understand the history and current status of the treatment of cerebrovascular occlusive disease, including the recommendations from recently completed national studies.
5) have reviewed the latest techniques for limb salvage in patients with lower extremity vascular occlusive disease.
6) have a review of the latest techniques and results of vascular access procedures.
7) have learned state of the art treatment of chronic lymphedema.
8) have exposure to pediatric surgery topics which are useful to the general surgeon, including the treatment of chest and abdominal wall defects and gastrointestinal bleeding in children.
9) have reviewed the latest in techniques for coronary artery revascularization, thoracic aortic aneurysm treatment and pulmonary autograft techniques.
10) have gained an overview of the role of newer techniques such as critical pathways and practice parameters and how they can improve the quality of surgical care.
11) have obtained an overview of the status of the physician-managed, statewide managed care organization called PROKlahoma.

CREDIT
The University of Oklahoma College of Medicine is accredited by the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education (ACCMCE) to sponsor continuing medical education for physicians.
