The Ninth
G. Rainey Williams Surgical Symposium
September 22-25, 1999

Developed by The Department of Surgery University of Oklahoma College of Medicine
In Conjunction with the Office of Continuing Medical Education University of Oklahoma College of Medicine

The Ninth G. Rainey Williams Surgical Symposium continues the tradition of surgical excellence through knowledge practiced by Dr. Williams throughout his career. This Symposium is dedicated to his memory and his lifelong commitment to surgical education.

The Symposium will provide a review of current surgical topics presented by nationally recognized authorities in general and cardiothoracic surgery and this year, in plastic surgery. Our focus is on the technical and practical aspects of modern surgery as they apply to the management of a variety of cancers, vascular disease and trauma.

A highlight will be the formal inauguration of The G. Rainey Williams Lecture which will be presented Saturday morning.

The Symposium is also a gathering place for those with ties to the Department of Surgery who return to the campus and renew old acquaintances. To enhance this aspect of the Symposium, this year's hotel site is The Westin, adjacent to the Bricktown development area in downtown Oklahoma City. We hope that this new venue, with its many amenities, and social activities being arranged for the Symposium will encourage spouses and families to attend.

In conjunction with the Office of Continuing Education of the University of Oklahoma, The Ninth G. Rainey Williams Surgical Symposium has been designated for up to 15 hours in Category I Physicians' Recognition Award of the American Medical Association.

The Annual Meeting of the Oklahoma Chapter of the American College of Surgeons and the Biennial Meeting of the University of Oklahoma Surgical Society will be held in conjunction with the Symposium. The ACS will have a luncheon and business meeting at noon on Friday at The Westin. The UOSS will host a cocktail reception on Wednesday evening and will have a breakfast business meeting on Saturday morning at The Westin.

We acknowledge the assistance of the following organizations:

- The Oklahoma Chapter, American College of Surgeons
- The Oklahoma City Surgical Society
- The University of Oklahoma Surgical Society

The Ninth G. Rainey Williams Surgical Symposium (September 22-25, 1999) will be a combination of old and new traditions. The Symposium continues to encourage surgical excellence by providing topical and leading edge surgical discussions presented by nationally recognized authorities in general and cardiothoracic surgery and this year, in plastic surgery. Organized in 1984 to honor the career of Dr. Williams and his dedication to surgery and surgical education, the Symposium continues his legacy by providing a forum for the members of the University of Oklahoma Surgical Society to continue their surgical education.

The first day of scientific sessions, Thursday, September 23, focuses on general surgery and will be held on the University of Oklahoma Health Sciences Center campus. Sessions on Day Two, Friday, will be held at The Westin and will consist of concurrent sessions for general, cardiothoracic and plastic surgery. The final half day session reconvenes at the Health Sciences Center on Saturday morning and will be highlighted this year by The G. Rainey Williams Lecture, presented by a member of the University of Oklahoma Surgical Society on a topic relating to surgical history.

This year's hotel site is The Westin. We hope the proximity of the hotel to the Bricktown development area will encourage spouses and families to attend. In addition to the customary Wednesday evening Welcome Reception and Friday evening Banquet, two new social events have been added to this year's Symposium. Plans are complete for a golf tournament to be held at the upgraded Jimmie Austin Golf Course at the University of Oklahoma in Norman, on Wednesday, September 22. We are also arranging tours and informal social gatherings (shopping?!), highlighting the many recent changes in Oklahoma City for family members who choose to accompany Symposium attendees.

We are excited about the new aspects of the program and look forward to seeing you in September. We welcome suggestions regarding these changes, as well as suggestions for future improvements.

Ciaran M. O'Hare, M.D.

GENERAL INFORMATION

Course Objectives

At the completion of the Symposium, those who attend:

* will learn about current surgical management of a variety cancers, including bile duct cancer, rectal cancer, thyroid cancer, breast cancer and lung cancer.
* will be updated on surgical planning and management of difficult surgical dilemmas, such as severe pancreatitis, recurrent esophageal reflux, esophageal cancer and chest wall closure.
* will be informed about new surgical techniques including laparoscopic surgery for achalasia, ventilator management and new modes of ventilation, and sentinel node biopsy.
* will learn about the current state of vascular surgery in peripheral vascular disease, including surgical and interventional radiologic methods.
* will be presented management strategies for abdominal and peripheral vascular trauma.
* will be updated on topical issues in plastic and reconstructive surgery.
* will have discussed current management of difficult cardiothoracic problems, including changing patient demographics, lung cancer and mediastinal masses.

Continuing Education Credit

The Ninth G. Rainey Williams Surgical Symposium is an open meeting sponsored by the Department of Surgery and the Office of Continuing Medical Education of the University of Oklahoma College of Medicine. The University of Oklahoma College of Medicine is accredited by the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education (ACCME) to sponsor continuing medical education for physicians. The Office of Continuing Education of the University of Oklahoma College of Medicine designates this continuing medical education activity as meeting the criteria for 15 credit hours in Category I of the Physicians’ Recognition Award of the American Medical Association.

Hotel

This year’s meeting will be held at the newly renovated Westin Oklahoma City, One North Broadway. The hotel is conveniently located in downtown Oklahoma City just a few blocks from Bricktown. A limited number of executive rooms have been reserved at the group rate of $89 per night at The Westin for The G. Rainey Williams Surgical Symposium. Make your reservations directly with the hotel by telephone 800-285-2780 (mention The G. Rainey Williams Surgical Symposium to receive the group rate) or by printing the reservation form and faxing it to (405)815-6074. Deadline for the special rates is August 30,1999, after which time reservations will be accepted on the basis of availability.

Parking

For registrants who will be driving, parking at The Westin is available in the adjacent Century Center Parking Garage for $4.00 per day, per vehicle. For the scientific sessions at the Health Sciences Center, parking is available in the J Lot at the south side of the Robert M. Bird Library on the corner of N. Stonewall and 10th Street. A map designating the parking area at OUHSC will be mailed to each registrant.

Transportation

The Westin has shuttle service to/from the airport. Contact the hotel in advance (405)235-2700 to make arrangements for shuttle service.

Charter transportation service to/from The Westin/University of Oklahoma Health Sciences Center is as follows:
