

Child Life 101

Have you ever heard of a Certified Child Life Specialist (CCLS) or the field of child life? Would you be interested in learning more about the child life profession? Are you currently a student wondering if your degree program will allow you to become a child life specialist? If you answered yes to any of these questions, then this learning opportunity is for you!

Child life 101 is a half-day educational session designed by The Children's Hospital's Child Life Department to provide current students and prospective practicum and intern students a realistic view of the child life role in a hospital setting and in this region.

Child Life 201

Date TBD

1 to 5 p.m. (approximately)

This will be a half-day event where you will go to four different "round tables" that include information on internships, practicums, resume/cover letters and interviews. Participants will be divided into small groups for more one-on-one interaction and an opportunity to get all questions answered.

Requirements

In order to apply for Child Life 201, you must be within two semesters of applying for a Child Life practicum or internship and have already attended Child Life 101 or taken a Child Life course taught by a Certified Child Life Specialist.

Please email us your cover letter and resume before the event as well as bringing it to the event.

Cost: $35 (or $50 if attending both)

Registration

Registration includes completed application and payment sent to:
