

The University of Oklahoma
Non-Discrimination in Health Programs and Activities

The University of Oklahoma complies with applicable Federal civil rights laws and does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, national origin, sex, sexual orientation, genetic information, gender identity, gender expression, age, religion, disability, political beliefs, or status as a veteran.

In University of Oklahoma health programs and activities, the University:

- Provides free aids and services to people with disabilities to communicate effectively with us, such as:
 - Qualified sign language interpreters
 - Written information in other formats (large print, audio, accessible electronic formats, other formats)

- Provides free language services to people whose primary language is not English, such as:
 - Qualified interpreters
 - Information written in other languages

If you need these services, contact Krystin Corrujedo, Diversity Program Manager by calling 405-271-2535. If you believe that the University of Oklahoma has failed to provide these services or discriminated in another way on the basis of race, color, national origin, sex, sexual orientation, genetic information, gender identity, gender expression, age, religion, disability, political beliefs, or status as a veteran, you can file a grievance with:
